

For your final writing assignment for this course, we will do something different.

On December 6, we will have Tamim Bayoumi come to class for a Q&A session about his book.

Your assignment is to come up with 5 questions for him.

You have a lot of flexibility regarding your questions. You could ask about:

- the assigned reading from his book for that day (Chapters 8-9 plus “Final Thoughts”)
- the rest of the book
- stuff we covered earlier in the semester (Asian Crisis, Gold Standard, Bretton Woods system)
- even topics outside of what we have covered this semester (Greece? Brexit? Trump?).

As always, your assignment should be typed and is due in class on Thursday, December 6. I will not accept assignments before or after class, or over e-mail.
